

15th ICCCR Communication

A big thank you for your participation in what has been described as "the ICCCR that has set a new standard for others to follow".

Now that we have returned to normality - and the rain has started falling again in Harrogate - we have been working hard on the post ICCCR.

Many of you have provided us with links to your collections of photographs, which we have published on the ICCCR web site under the Post Event menu. If you have pictures you would like us to publish send us the link of your online photos.

We have also received many messages from attendees of the event - this feedback has been published on the ICCCR web site under the Post Event menu.
